

PATRONACE is a new brand, developing clothes which can be placed at the intersection of fashion and performance.

No matter if you move by ebike or skateboard, if you go to work or to the skatepark: clothes by Patronace can support any accelerated urban mobility. By using the GRDXKN® technology, our products are lightweight and sturdy, they are skin protecting and resistant to abrasion. We use fabrics which are breathable from the inside and hydrophobic from the outside. Because of their suppleness, our clothes are also perfect to wear during your urban daily life.

Patronace is run by Munich-based industrial designer Bastian Müller.
